QR/JO The Queen Rania's Institute for Sustainable Tourism and Cultural Heritage Management - The Hashemite University (Amman, Jordan)

The Queen Rania's Institute for Sustainable Tourism and Cultural Heritage Management (QR/JO) was established in the summer of 1999 and is engaged in multidisciplinary Education, Training and Research in Conservation Science and Cultural Heritage Management and Museology as well as application of Science and Technology in the Management and Protection of Jordan's Heritage. It has access to all the relevant scientific/technical facilities of the Hashemite University and collaborates where necessary with the Jordanian Department of Antiquities. It is currently heavily involved in preservation, conservation and documentation of monuments and artefacts from Petra, the Nabataean ancient site in Southern Jordan. It is also involved in a thematic network on ancient jewellery JEWELMED funded by the EU. The QR/JO will contribute to those tasks of all 4 WPs which relate to two very important and relatively poorly studied ceramic categories, namely the Nabataean fine decorated ware (1st cent BC – 3rd cent. AD) and the geometric Islamic (Mamluk) ware 12th to 13th cent AD).
